

Diocese of Arlington

Catholic Schools

Office of Catholic Schools

An electronic news-flash from the Office of Catholic Schools

Wednesday, January 25, 2012

School Artists Make the News!

St. Agnes School and Bishop Denis J. O'Connell High School were both represented in the Arlington Connection. The December 28-January 3 edition contained a number of pictures from budding artists in our Catholic schools.

Above, cover art for the Arlington Connection by student Sujin Kim, Bishop Denis J. O'Connell High School

To the left, Stairway to Haven by Abbey Dinger, St. Agnes School

Computer Mind

Primary and particular, sharp it be,
Lean and linear, angled so all can see.
A thousand clicks trigger an action,
It's simple beauty, you can see but a fraction.

The image above, Computer Mind, is meant to be accompanied by the poem to the above left. Both the painting and the poem are by student Selene Swanson, St. Agnes School.

Growing in Wisdom, Age and Grace

"We have received the gift of baptism and share in the responsibility to fulfill Christ's final command to "go out and teach" (cf. Mt. 28:19). Our schools are a vital part of this evangelization among educators, students, parents, and our wider communities."

*~Bishop Paul S. Loverde
A Pastoral Letter on
Catholic Schools*

Office of Catholic Schools

200 N. Glebe Road, Suite 503,
Arlington, Virginia 22044
703.841.2519

catholicsschools@arlingtondiocese.org
www.arlingtondiocese.org