

CATHOLIC DIOCESE OF ARLINGTON

The Catholic Diocese of Arlington faithful filled the Basilica of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception for a pilgrimage led by Most Rev. Michael F. Burbidge, Bishop of the Diocese of Arlington, in October 2017. The pilgrimage featured a Mass concelebrated by Diocesan priests and was attended by a diverse representation of the Catholic faithful.

Arlington established as a Diocese on August 13, 1974

The Diocese comprises the seven cities of Alexandria, Fairfax, Falls Church, Fredericksburg, Manassas, Manassas Park, and Winchester and the 21 counties of Arlington, Clarke, Culpeper, Fairfax, Fauquier, Frederick, King George, Lancaster, Loudoun, Madison, Northumberland, Orange, Page, Prince William, Rappahannock, Richmond, Shenandoah, Spotsylvania, Stafford, Warren, and Westmoreland.

The Diocese's Coat of Arms, shown at the top of the page, is composed of a blue field on which is displayed a silver fess (bar across the middle), with engrailed edges on both sides, and on that fess is a red bar. The use of the colors red, white (silver), and blue are to reflect the colors of our nation's flag because of the extreme proximity of our nation's capital to the See City of Arlington and because of the close connection of the County government to the United States. The engrailed edges of the fess are taken from the arms of Saint Thomas More, titular of the Cathedral Church. Below the fess is a silver crescent to honor the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Patroness of the Diocese of Arlington and the Patroness of the United States. The star above the fess is encircled by ten smaller stars, also in silver, to represent the Commonwealth of Virginia, which was the tenth state admitted to the Union.

Rappahannock County is in the northern portion of the Commonwealth of Virginia: The county extends north and south about 24 miles and east and west about 21 miles. It has an area of approximately 267 square miles. The northwestern boundary is in the Blue Ridge Mountains (approximately at Skyline Drive; it extends in a southwesterly direction from Chester Gap to “The Pinnacle”), and separates the county from Warren and Page counties. The southwestern boundary extends in a southeasterly direction from “The Pinnacle” at Skyline Drive to Route 749 (Moon Road) and approximately follows the Hughes River to the Hazel River and Slate Mills, and separates the county from Madison County. The southeastern boundary extends in a northeasterly direction from Slate Mills approximately along Route 707 (Slate Mills Road) to Route 650, to Route 615 (Turkey Ridge Road and Castleton Ford Road), to Route 729 at Estes; then roughly through Viewtown, along Route 642 (Viewtown Road) to Amissville and east on Route 211 (Lee Highway) to Pond Lane and Waterloo Road to the Rappahannock River, and separates the county from Culpeper County. The northeastern boundary formed by the Rappahannock River extends in a northwesterly direction from the easternmost extremity of Rappahannock County at the Rappahannock River to Chester Gap, and separates the county from Fauquier County.
