

MCC-MA Program Alignment Guide

How does the Master Catechist Certification align with the requirements of the MA degree in Theological Studies at Christendom?

The Master Catechist Certification (MCC) comprises six courses in total: a four-course nucleus and two supplementary courses. Each of the four nuclear courses tracks one of the four parts of the Catechism of the Catholic Church. These courses are offered every spring and fall on a two-year cycle on campus and online. Students in the MCC also take one supplementary online course each summer to round out the six-course curriculum in two years. One supplementary course is a survey course in sacred Scripture and is required of all students in the MCC. For their second supplementary course, students in the MCC choose between Fathers of the Church and Apologetics.

Courses in the MCC can be taken for 500-level academic credit. These are upper-level crossover credits that may be counted by some transfer institutions toward an undergraduate degree or toward a graduate degree. MCC courses can be counted toward the graduate credits required for the Master of Arts (MA) degree in Theological Studies at the Notre Dame Graduate School of Christendom College (NDGS). To earn academic credit for MCC courses, a student must fulfill certain extra requirements specified in the syllabus for each MCC course. Each MCC course counts for two credits.

The MA degree requires 42 graduate-level credits in theological studies. Program details can be found in the Graduate School Bulletin, especially §5, which concerns the curriculum. This document is available on the Graduate School website. The matrix on the following page illustrates how MCC credits can be applied toward the MA degree.

Taking advantage of the academic credits offered through the MCC is a marvelous idea because you kill two birds with one stone: It gives you a serious head start through our MA program at significant cost savings to you. This is especially true if you decide to pursue the degree concentration in Evangelization and Catechesis (this is where the greatest impact lies). Please contact us at any time if you have specific questions about your individual path.

For more information, including language requirements, specific details on core exemptions for the Scripture concentration, and program details on the Spirituality and Consecrated life concentrations (including course credit values), please review the Graduate School Bulletin, §5.
